Trivia []. Guild Wars 2: Heart of Thorns introduced enemies which used mounts, namely the Zintl Cavalier and the Mordrem Guard Cavalier.However, these enemies did not use a proper mount system. Instead, the mounted enemy would begin attacking as a singular enemy model with shared animations and a single health pool which was replaced by two "unmounted" models with a reduced health pool via a ...

Game updates - Guild Wars 2 Wiki (GW2W)

I’m playing Guild Wars 2 for years and this is a very useful guide for a beginner but, also for a veteran like me to get a reminder not to spend my Gems on unnecessary items! It’s a very understandable article exactly on the point, having everything a newcomer will need to start the right way and not to feel lost in such a huge & endless game like this one.

The bug fix is not working for mounts using the defaults, and you can expect mount failure roughly 20% of the time. You can’t just own a custom skin, it has to be applied. If you already own any custom skins, it costs nothing to test this. Just revert any mounts with skins to their defaults to confirm if the problem now occurs on those mounts ...

I know with those two games, because of the constant updates that the add-ons need to be updated as well but don't know if the same logic applies to Guild Wars 2. Overall, mostly what I'm looking for is a World Event Timer that can be put somewhere on the UI so I can just take a glance of what's coming up and not have to use my phone or alt-tab to Dulfy's timer. I'm also looking for something ...

Guide to making a build - Guild Wars Wiki (GWW)

Original Guild Wars had Dolyak Masters and stuff like that, there is no law saying Guild Wars 2 mounts would have to simply copy the silly mounts of other online games; aka requires lots of money, level requirement, disappear when you get hit or attack. I could see it becoming a core skill like res signet, put it on the bar and you ride it, like comfort animal. But I bet the Guild Wars 2 ...

In Guild Wars 2, it's possible to avoid many enemy attacks by staying out of range. If you see an ogre lift its club, stand back! If you can't get out of the way in time—or an archer or mage has a long-range attack lined up with your name on it—try dodging. Tap one of your movement keys twice, and you'll roll in that direction out of harm's way. Performing dodges depletes the yellow ...
