Joseph Teller is a pen name of Joseph Teller Klempner, and he is also published as Joseph T. Klempner Joseph Teller was born and raised in New York City. He graduated in 1961 from the College of Wooster in Ohio and from the University of Michigan Law School in 1964. He returned to New York City, where he was admitted to the bar in 1965, but spent three years as an agent with the Federal Bureau

Guilty as Sin is the 4th Jaywalker novel I've read, and it easily outdistances the last two in terms of story quality and narrative focus. This is a courtroom procedural, and as such it is a stellar work of fiction. Teller's preachiness --which ruined the previous novel- isn't as prevalent here, and the focus isn't on how great Jaywalker is, it's on the story. We are treated to Teller patting ...

The Tenth Case by Joseph Teller is a legal thriller in which a criminal defense attorney, who goes by the nickname Jaywalker, defends Samara Moss, an Anna Nicole Smith type gold digger whose millionaire husband is found murdered. I do not usually read legal thrillers, but I was very pleasantly surprised by this book. It had many twists and turns, a surprise ending and held my attention. The ...
