Bonus with the auto calibration and THX. And the receiver does a very good job with music. I heard the new Denon AVR-3805 receiver. Personally I think the Yamaha is better ...

I read the V2400 user manual and down and the pre-out for the presence speakers is shared with the rear surround. I have not seen the menu for the V2400 but is there a way to tell the V2400 that the preout is for the presence speakers. Does the receiver assume that if you choose yes for having the presence speakers and rear surrounds that the internal amp is used for the rear surrounds and ...
